

Laura E. Jones Eller

Staff Attorney

Laura E. Jones Eller's practice focuses on litigation, white collar defense, health care insurance litigation, plaintiffs and class actions.

Laura has represented a variety of different clients, including Native American tribes, other attorneys, and individual and corporate defendants in both criminal and civil proceedings.

For over a decade, Laura has utilized various e-discovery tools to assist her in searching and managing the review of large document caches, including software platforms such as Relativity, Concordance and CaseMap.

She has also taken an active role in Zuckerman Spaeder's civic activities with the Washington Lawyers' Committee law firm/DCPS partnership program, mentoring students at Lawrence Boone ES, an elementary school in Anacostia DC, by coaching them for GeoPlunge tournaments and the annual Frederick Douglass oratorical contest, as well as supporting Lawrence Boone ES kids who participate in the Girls on the Run 5k races.

Laura is also a co-Chief Election Judge, trained by the Montgomery County Board of Elections every 2 years, to manage the personnel and set up at a polling station, to ensure swift, safe and fair access to polls during an election in her community.

Prior to joining Zuckerman Spaeder, Laura worked for the Honorable Reggie Walton, at D.C Superior Court.

Bar admissions

- District of Columbia
- New York

Clerkships

- Hon. Reggie Walton, District of Columbia Superior Court

Washington, DC

+1 202.778.1881
202.822.8106 - Fax
leller@zuckerman.com

Practice focus

- E-Discovery
- Health Care
- Plaintiffs and Class Actions
- White Collar Defense

Education

- George Washington University Law School, J.D., 1994
- Stony Brook University, B.A., 1990

ZUCKERMAN
SPAEDER